

Second String Backs Shine in Yale Drill

Carey and Neville Lead
Attack Which Crushes
Third Eleven

HARVARD TRAINS GUNS ON TIGERS AND THE BULLDOG

New Haven, Oct. 31.—Only ten minutes' scrimmaging was ordered for the Yale eleven this afternoon, because the hot weather, the Washington-Jefferson game Saturday and recent practices have worn the players down somewhat.

The varsity displayed weakness at the start. It was held for downs after putting the ball in play against the third eleven. Head Coach Tad Jones, for the sake of developing the attack, allowed the regulars to retain the ball. During the rest of the practice the varsity awoke and stormed Dr. Bull's eleven unchecked.

In two plays the first team scored its first touchdown from the 35-yard line, Harold Carey sprinting around end for twenty-five yards, and his companion halfback, Joe Neville, plunging through guard for the remaining ten yards.

Putting the ball in play at its 10-yard line, the varsity was told to make an end run. The men obeyed orders by carrying the ball the ninety yards wholly on line plunges, with the exception of a quarterback end run by Traper Smith from the center of the field for fifteen yards. Neville also carried the ball over the goal line for the second and final touchdown.

Le Gore Takes Rest

The second string halfbacks, Carey and Neville, displaying the most effective plunging form of the backfield quartet. Le Gore was laid off for the afternoon because of overwork, but will be back in the scrimmaging by Thursday. Halfback Bob Bingham will not return from his home in Massachusetts until tomorrow.

It was stated at the college infirmary tonight that the attack of water in the knee sustained by Fullback Emil Jacques would not permit him to play football before next week. Guard Galt took a rest because of slight overwork. Alfred Roseberry, the former end, and John Callahan, formerly center, alternated in his position at guard to-day. Both may be tried out in the Colgate game next Saturday.

For the third eleven, King, guard, and Gerald Phillips, center, showed excellent form. Phillips is a brother of Steve and Holliday Phillips, two former Yale halfbacks. La Roche succeeded Smith at quarterback late in today's practice.

Today's line-up was:

McCabe, at Quarter, Drives Columbia Team in Practice

By FRANK O'NEILL

The return of Howard Miller, star quarterback of the Columbia 1915 varsity eleven, may be delayed for some little time. The plaster cast was removed from his knee yesterday by Dr. Frank Oster, and an examination disclosed the fact that there is still water around the injured member. Another examination will be made later this week, and if the knee improves under massage treatment Miller may be coaxed into playing in the final game of the season, against New York University, on November 25. There is no chance of his playing against Swarthmore.

As a matter of fact, there is not any too great probability of Miller returning to the game at all. We learned yesterday that his folks are not in favor of him playing any more, and that Miller himself will think twice before running the risk of injuring his leg again. Naturally, Metcalf is desirous of having his star kicker return to the game. Miller would like to get ten per cent of the deficiency of the Blue and White, not alone for his ability to kick goals, providing that he retains the knack after such a long rest, but for his recognized ability to run the team and get the best results.

Changes in Eleven

While Miller is deliberating, Nelson Metcalf is not resting in his search for a new quarterback. Rainaldi is out with a sore shoulder and Jimmy Rosen is nursing a banged-up leg. So it happened that yesterday afternoon McCabe, the boy who has been driving the scrum back along all seasons, was called to the varsity. McCabe took to his new duties and had the team speeding along furiously. He put a lot of snap into his work, and may develop into a serviceable youth before the season is closed.

The shift that placed McCabe on the varsity was one of several that Metcalf made. Coach Ryan, whose work at quarterback has been one of the most encouraging features of the season at Columbia, was shifted to right end, and Dunn, the regular at that position, was installed at quarterback. Both players were a bit strange in their new positions, but they got right down to hard work, and it was not long before the plays clicked off in their accustomed manner.

Sterling Van de Water ran through the signal drill with the team yesterday, and he expects to take part in the scrimmage work to-day. His knee bothers him not a little, but he intends to play in the Swarthmore game, and nothing like a sore knee is going to stop it. So he said yesterday, at any rate.

Scrimmage on for To-day
Scrimmage work and all that goes with it will be indulged in to-day. Since the Williams game Metcalf has allowed the boys to have an easy time of it, but the stern work will have to be taken up in earnest. Several new plays, that will be used against the Pennsylvanians, were practiced, and to-day they will be put to the test in actual scrimmaging.

Bud Wilber, varsity tackle, is expected to take part in the scrimmage to-day. He has been coming along nicely, and is just about ready. Left Healy's leg has not bothered him, and he is ready for about anything that comes along.

Scrub Being Equipped with Princeton Plays—Regulars on Job

Boston, Oct. 31.—Memories of Harvard's big score victory over Cornell were allowed to fade away this afternoon when the varsity team got down to cases again and started work, not only for Princeton two weeks hence, but for Yale, always the season's goal. Most of the regulars were back on the job behind the fence to-day and the session mapped out by the coaches was a long one.

There was no driving football scrimmage, but the varsity and the substitutes worked against each other all the afternoon, while the scrubs also worked in secret, fitted into the put on Princeton's plays when the real scrimmaging begins.

Rush Line intact
The rush line to-day was practically intact. Captain Damm is still resting his leg. Snow going over to left guard and Clark, the regular right wing man, being back in his usual place. Sweetser started at right tackle, where many think he played a better game against Cornell than Canner did. Sweetser, when at his best, is one of the most aggressive tackles Harvard has had in years, and it looks more probable than ever that he and Wheeler will be the tackles in both the big games.

In Robinson's absence Murray ran the team, with Bond, Thatcher and Willcox in the backfield. Casey worked out, as did Flower and Hitchcock. Horween was down to the field, but not in playing clothes, but both Taylor and Richards, who have been on the injured list, were in their football togs and ready for work.

Still "Green" Team

Coach Houghton by now has decided on the men he intends to rely on for the games with Princeton and Yale, and Harvard henceforth will work along the usual lines. The team, however, is still regarded as green despite its victory over Cornell, and Houghton and his assistants regard their task this fall as the hardest in years.

Princeton's small score against Dartmouth is not being taken as a final indication of what the Jersey men may be expected to show against Harvard, and last year's close game has not been lost sight of, particularly as the Tigers lost most of their veterans in line for Rush's second season, while Harvard's building had to be from much new material, which, however, has been developing fast.

WILLIAMS COACH GIVES HIS MEN HARD WORK-OUT

Williamstown, Mass., Oct. 31.—Coach Brooks gave the Williams football squad one of the hardest work-outs of the season this afternoon. After a short preliminary drill, the varsity lined up against the scrubs, and for three-quarters of an hour the two teams scrimmaged up and down the field.

Particular attention is being paid to the handling of the ball, as the Purple's suddenly developed habit of fumbling at crucial moments undoubtedly lost the Columbia game. Several shifts were made in the line-up of the varsity backfield, which was composed of O'Brien, McLean, Quintance and Gifford. Lewis was playing on the scrubs, and Cross, the big fullback, who was hurt in the Columbia game, was still on the side lines.

Several members of the backfield have shown some remarkably clever open field running during the last two days. With Sawyer back in the line the team is feeling confident of success against Wesleyan on Saturday.

CORNELL FRESHIES TO PLAY SECOND VARSITY

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The intense rivalry that always exists between the Cornell freshman football squad and the second varsity eleven comes to a climax this week. The wishes of both camps have been recognized in the athletic management in the scheduling of a game between the two, to follow the contest between Carnegie Tech and Cornell on Schoellkopf Field Saturday afternoon.

Coach Taylor, of the freshmen, not dismayed by the defeat of his protégés by the Kiskiminetas School, of Pittsburgh, 9 to 8, last Saturday, is driving his men hard for the remaining games on the schedule. He has named Manlius School and the Penn freshmen.

NEBRASKA TEAM WILL NOT PLAY IN EAST

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 31.—The University of Nebraska will not accept any offer to play a post-season football game with an Eastern or any other team, according to a statement made by Athletic Director Reed to-day in refusing a proposal of Walter E. Hapgood, business manager of the Boston National League Baseball Club, that Nebraska play Tufts, Brown or Dartmouth in Boston on December 2. Reed said Missouri Valley football conference rules forbade games on other than college fields.

SECONDS SCORE ON REGULARS IN PRACTICE GAME

Tiger Varsity Outplayed in Scrimmage—First String Jobs in Danger

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 31.—The slump which hit Princeton during the Dartmouth game had not changed any to-day unless to get worse.

The varsity eleven was put through a long scrimmage against the second team, and during the whole workout seemed to lack the pep, decision and power which should characterize a first-class team. They were unable to score against the second-string men, and often had difficulty in making any headway at all.

Following the scrimmage a forward pass drill was held, but even there the first team could not consistently get away with their plays.

Neither Ames nor Eddy has been in a scrimmage since Saturday. Harold, Comey was at quarterback for the first time, and Haaren for the second. By far the best playing of the day was done by the aspirants for first string jobs who were playing on the second squad. They made the only touchdown of the scrimmage when Haaren recovered a fumbled punt and ran half the length of the field for a score.

The second string backfield was composed of Haaren, Moore, Thomas and Georzi. Moore and Thomas were the players to furnish the fireworks for the practice. Thomas ripped through the varsity line for a gain almost every time he was called upon and whenever one yard or two was needed he made it. Moore got away for his gains on runs around end and off tackle.

In many respects the second team was just as strong as the first. Halsey and Latrobe, in particular, playing at the tackle positions, were just about as good as McLean and McGraw on the first team.

BRYANT PILOTS PENN'S VARSITY IN SCRIMMAGE

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—Jimmy Bryant, for a third time trying quarterback, piloted the Penn varsity in the hardest scrimmage of the year against the second varsity this afternoon.

Bryant, while not the most brilliant field leader on the squad, now considered by Coach Fowler as the most capable of getting the best that there is in the team out of them.

Hobey Light was switched to fullback, and this probably means that he is through. The injury to Berry, which means that he will be on the side lines until the Dartmouth game, has given Light his chance to make good. Dery and Williams were the other members of the backfield in the hard scrimmage.

The varsity ran off its plays smoothly and had little trouble gaining ground against the second eleven. Toward the end of practice Fowler tested the varsity defense by giving the second string man the ball on the 10-yard line.

MIDDLEBURY ELEVEN TRAINS FOR NORWICH

Middlebury, Vt., Oct. 31.—Coach Holmes, of the Middlebury football team, was pleased with the fine interference his men displayed in Saturday's game with R. P. I. This week a great deal of time will be devoted to breaking up forward passes, which was the weakest part of Middlebury's game against the New York boys.

After the light practice to-day the squad will have severe work-outs in anticipation of a hard game with Norwich. Captain Lang has a strained back and will not be able to play against Norwich.

The Sportlight

By Grantland Rice

The Annual Stymie

The Tiger is a regal beast;
The Bulldog's grip is fixed as Fate;
Each yearns now for a noble feast
With Houghton brought in on the plate;
But as each saunters forth to bag
The juicy prize amid the fray,
The shadow of a Crimson flag
Still falls across their right of way.

The Bulldog's appetite is keen,
The Tiger, too, is poised to strike;
But something seems to come between
Their reeking fangs and what they like;
Each creeps out from his chosen lair
With head erect, in kingly pride,
And then—a shot rings on the air
As Houghton bags another hide.

Year after year the Blue guard swings
Across the field to the attack;
Year after year the war cry rings
Above the Orange and the Black;
Alas! It is a cruel world,
A bitter one and unrefined;
For each finds when the charge is hurled
That Houghton has the highway mined.

Wakeful Watching

These are serious and thoughtful days upon the campuses that surround Princeton and Yale.

For some time the rumor has been prevalent that Houghton and Harvard this season were in the blighting throes of an off-year, with no great hope of emerging this placid autumn.

But it appears, according to the testimony offered from Ithaca, that the rumor was grossly exaggerated.

If Harvard is indulging in an "off-year," the word "off" doesn't mean what Cornell thinks it does.

So it happens in the wake of this Cornell affair both Princeton and Yale are taking very little stock in the alleged Crimson slump. In place of looking for fairly easy picking, they are beginning to wonder if there is any chance at all of getting safely by.

One of the Best
There is very little doubt now that Houghton, within another two weeks, will have a machine about as powerful as any he has sent to battle. He hasn't a great line, but he has a good one, and with Robinson, Casey, Horween, Bond, Flower and Hitchcock he has a rare wealth of backfield material to carry on a hardy and prolonged attack.

Houghton has better backfield material than Princeton, beyond a debate, and a greater quantity than Yale, despite the work of Le Gore. With a capable quarter of Robinson's calibre, with a punter like Horween, a broken field runner of Casey's ability and two men to help such as Bond and Flower are, P. D. has the ammunition for a smashing and versatile assault.

He has the advantage over Princeton in the running game and the advantage over Yale in the kicking game; an advantage that will be vital unless these two come forward at imposing jumps in the brief space that is still left.

Princeton's Chance

Princeton has a good line and a fine punter in Driggs. But Rush can't put driving power into backs unless the driving power is there. And no coach is enough of a genius to build up a formidable attack unless his backfield has the punch.

The difference between the drive in Princeton's and Dartmouth's backfield was very great.

A Gerrish or a Thielacher would be as welcome in Nassau town as the electoral votes of New York, Ohio and Illinois would be to Hughes or Wilson.

Pittsburgh Again

It is now what some original cuss has labelled "a foregone conclusion" that Pittsburgh University will again be in a position to claim a share in the football championship spoils.

Pitt isn't going to be beaten this season, for the simple reason that no one has the stuff to beat her with.

As to whether Pitt is champion of the East or West we leave for the geographical experts to decide.

We put the query up to a Pitt man, and his answer was prompt: "Both."

The Barrier

Meeting long hitters casts no dark spell
As we war over hill and glen;
But beating a guy who can putt likeli
Is something else again.

Three hundred yards they may wallop the ball
And I'll not admit defeat;
But when putt after putt begins to fall
My goat begins to bleat.

FORDHAM WORKS HARD PREPARING FOR GEORGETOWN

Maroon Regulars Return to Drill Following Rest Due to Injuries

Frank Gargan, coach of the Fordham football eleven, is in favor of turning back the clocks or devising some other way of making the days last longer. He has a little less than one week to prepare for the game against Georgetown, which will be played on Fordham Field on Election Day, and he needs every minute of the time to assemble a machine that will make the Southerners realize that they have been in a real battle.

After a discouraging run of ill fortune, the Maroon regulars are just coming back, and during the next several days they will be driven at top speed. "This is the one game of the season that we must win if possible," said Gargan yesterday as he watched his team race through a long signal drill before plunging into a spirited scrimmage.

We regard it as one of the big games of the schedule, and if we manage to outscore Georgetown it will establish us among the eleven of the East. The Southerners showed their power in defeating Dartmouth. On a line through that game they are stronger than Princeton.

"Albert Exendine is a good coach. He adheres to the Warner system, and gets the results through it. I worked with him, and I know that all his teams are properly grounded in football. Moreover, all his teams play the same fearless football that he played when a member of the Carlisle eleven."

For the first time in a week the varsity scrimmaged, and for thirty minutes it ploughed through the scrubs. The varsity held the ball, for it is imperative that the attack be developed to the nth degree. Four five touchdowns were made, and when it is considered that the scrubs line knew what play to expect and then failed to stop it, the power of the offense was emphasized.

Jack Cantwell, whose playing at right end won the eye of the coaches in the early season, was back at his post yesterday and was going along nicely. Brancey, who was mainly injured last long ago, was at guard, working with May. The backfield was made up of O'Connell, Dempsey, Erwig and Sweetland, with McNamara and Golden working at quarterback.

N. Y. U. WORKING ON NEW PLAYS; BRINN IN TOGS

Howard Cann was out in football togs at New York University yesterday afternoon, but he stood on the side lines and watched his younger brother, Teddie, in his place at left halfback.

Teddie has decided that he will play this year, and is making a serious bid for a place on the varsity team.

If the speed and power that he displayed yesterday be not a flash in the pan Teddie will make it pretty interesting for some of the boys. While he is fighting Howard will rest, for his shoulder is sore to the touch, and probably will be for a couple of days to come.

There is little chance that the elder Cann will be in condition to play against Bucknell. His work yesterday was of the lightest, and after getting off a few punts and kicking a couple of goals from the field he retired. The rest of the team, however, worked through a long scrimmage and practiced the new plays that Eustis has devised for them.

Archie Brinn was back in togs and played varsity centre throughout the drill. When Howard Cann returns to the game Eustis may shift Teddie to tackle, for the youngster is especially adapted to play that position.

McAniff Praises Bout

"It's the best lightweight match made around here in years," said Jack McAniff, the champion, who retired undefeated, when asked to comment on the coming bout between Irish Patsy Cline and Joe Welling, at the Manhattan A. C. on November 9. "I have seen both these boys under fire, and they are real fighters. They are great boxers, and they can punch."

COLGATE SCRUB TALLIES TWICE ON THE VARSITY

Two Regular Backs Kept Out of Scrimmage with Injuries

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The Colgate varsity was put through the first hard scrimmage of the week this afternoon on Whitnall Field in preparation for the Yale game Saturday at New Haven. Hubbell and Spencer, regular backs, are both on the hospital list and followed the scrimmage from the side lines. The latter has not yet recovered from a sprained shoulder, which kept him out of the Springfield game.

The only injury to-day was to Hayes, who has been making a bid for an end position. He sprained his ankle, and will be out of the game for several days. Aside from these men, all the rest of the squad are in good physical condition, and barring accidents Colgate will send a well-conditioned team to New Haven as she did three weeks ago to Illinois.

In this afternoon's practice Coach Bankart sent the scrubs against the varsity after a short signal drill. The scrubs took the ball with instructions to drive play after play against the varsity line. Failure to gain on formations, intermixed with straight football, were attempted. The scrubs gained repeatedly on rushes and carried the ball over the goal line four times. Weyer, substitute fullback, was responsible for the scrubs' two scores.

This evening the players gathered at the Y. M. C. A. building, and for an hour listened to a blackboard talk from Coaches Bankart and Huntington describing the peculiar Yale system of offence and defence. These talks will continue all week.

PUNTING DUEL DEVELOPS NEW CADET KICKER

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The Army men got down to work to-day in earnest for the Notre Dame game. The soldiers were sent into two sessions of football, the latter one lasting well into the darkness.

The new wrinkles to be used on Saturday against the Hoosiers were all gone over. There was some raggedness at times, but on the whole the drill was satisfactory. A punting duel with Timberlake, Vidal, Oliphant and Cole participating, developed the fact that Timberlake is a kicker of promise. Just where he will fit in on the team is the question if the coaches decide to use him. He has been out but a little over a week and has been used at end.

To-day he played for awhile in the backfield. Vidal had a brief session at drop kicking with splendid success. House and Shure were the flankers again, neither Ford nor Redfield having recovered sufficiently to participate in the scrimmaging.

The tackling, which was none too good last week, got a lot of attention to-day, and the men were drilled painstakingly in the forming of interference for the runner in bringing back punts. Gerhardt is doing fine work in this line.

LEHIGH CHEERED BY THE RETURN OF STAR PLAYER

South Bethlehem, Penn., Oct. 31.—The return of Richards, end; Pons, guard, and Haiselot, center, to the game was the one encouraging feature of the football drill at Lehigh to-day.

The secret practice sign was hung out again, and while the varsity was perfecting its new plan, the scrubs were working on Muhlenberg formations, in anticipation of a hard scrimmage tomorrow, which will most likely be the only one called for this week.

The physical condition of the men is improving nicely, the only man not in togs being McDonald, the centre rush. Both Pons and Robinson were used in McDonald's place. The return of Richards, who has been out with a shoulder injury since the Lebanon Valley game, has helped solve the end problem.

Don Markle, the old Yale halfback, and Jim Keady had charge of the scrubs to-day.

Following a punting drill, Coach Keady called for signal practice in order to test the backfield and seven linemen. As soon as one back, Archie, who was sent several laps around the track, so the men were kept continually on the jump.

FORTY-TWO PLAYERS ON BROWN GRIDIRON

Providence, R. I., Oct. 31.—Team A scored the only touchdown of the scrimmage of the Brown football squad here this afternoon, Annan making the tally on a 15-yard run.

The men were put through their first hard scrimmage since the Rutgers game, at quarter, sending forty-two players were on the field.

With an easy game on Saturday with Vermont, the coaches and men are not worrying much over the result, but are concentrating their efforts on preparation for the Yale game a week from Saturday.

Jemal did especially good work this afternoon, his line plunging being the best of the new plan. Jimmy Murphy, the little quarterback, also shone with his forward passing.

DARTMOUTH FOOTBALL MEN HEAR LECTURE

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 31.—The Dartmouth football squad was back in togs this afternoon, and after listening to a lecture by the coaches on last Saturday's Princeton contest engaged in a long signal drill. Bill Randall, former Green head coach, was on the field, and will continue to aid in getting the team in shape for the coming games.

The student body will witness the hardest scrimmage of the season tomorrow if present plans materialize. But for the rest of the week the drills will be behind closed doors. Coach Cavanaugh does not hold Syracuse cheaply, and every effort will be made to present a strong front against the Orange Saturday.

Legislative Committee Suggests Important Changes in Constitution

By A. C. CAVAGNARO

Special emphasis was placed upon the definition of an amateur by the legislative committee of the Amateur Athletic Union, which has just completed its task of revising the constitution and bylaws of the union.

A copy of the proposed amendments were mailed to the members of the board of governors yesterday, and they will pass judgment on the recommendations at the annual meeting, which takes place at the Waldorf-Astoria in November 20. The committee is composed of Seward A. Simons, of Los Angeles, chairman; Bartow S. Weeks, A. G. Mills, Herman Meyers and Herman Oberbushnessing. Many other radical changes are included.

The new definition of amateur suggested is: "An amateur is one who engages in sport solely for the pleasure and physical, mental or social benefits he derives therefrom, and to whom sport is something more than an avocation."

Some acts of disbarment are included. "Competing under an assumed name, by directly or indirectly receiving pay or financial benefits for participating in any public exhibition, or one who sells his prizes for personal gain."

Other Acts Barred
Other acts under which an athlete will be stamped ineligible to compete as an amateur are: "Coaching for money or capitalization of athletic fame, or ability in advertising or selling sporting goods." If an amateur completes individually or on a team against one or more ineligible players he shall forever forfeit his amateur standing. All these recommendations are incorporated in Article X.

The board of governors is entrusted with a pardoning power in cases where the amateur has proved to the satisfaction of the body that the act was committed through ignorance or an excusable error. Reinstatement will follow after a time limitation.

Hereafter all delegates to the annual convocation will have to be amateurs in accordance with the amendment to Article VII of Section 2 of the constitution. Each association can select its delegates and a like number of alternates, but no member of the board of governors can be elected an alternate.

Provision is made to protect the rights of college students in cases where college attendance is not required in consecutive semesters. The board of governors is authorized to make a student in making his school completion of the year's residence for the purpose of registration to represent such institution in competition, but he can transfer his affiliations to a club during the vacation months.

May Forget Rights However, should be complete for any club or other organization after the expiration of this period he shall feel his right to represent the educational institution in competitions governed by rules of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The board of governors evidently had the cases of Howard P. Drew and John W. Overton, of Yale, in mind when they considered this amendment.

An addition to General Rule XII declares that an athlete who competes twenty-five miles out of his district must file an itemized account of his registration, completed by the witness, and should he fail to do so immediately upon his return he will be automatically suspended. Athletes have paid little respect to this rule, but hereafter it will be rigidly enforced.

It is pleasant to note that the re-education committee saw fit to eliminate the 880-yard walk from the all-around contest and in its stead substitute a 440-yard run, a distance that hereafter the efforts of the competitors in the running races will not be awarded points on a time basis, but on a distance basis.

The final ten yards of the race will be marked off with whitewash lines, one foot apart, and the judges will so position themselves as to enable them to note accurately the distance. Only four will start in the heat of the winner, and the winner will be awarded points on his performance as heretofore. A new point table has been computed.

Suggestions as to Dates
Profiting from experience, the committee suggests that the indoor championships, unless otherwise determined by the championship committee, are to take place between February 1 and April 30 and the outdoor contests between July 20 and September 15.

It is also recommended that the women's championships be held on the same dates as the men's. The committee believes that the National Women's Lifesaving League can handle this matter ably.
